December Meeting

December 9 – Brown Bag Party

It's time to celebrate the Christmas season with our Brown Bag Party and Covered Dish Supper. Please remember to bring any items you would like to donate to the meeting early....I will be there at 5:00 to start organizing all the goodies. I'm asking for 5 or 6 volunteers to meet me at 5:00. I also would like 2 people to sell tickets, one person to sit at the 'big spender' table and sell those tickets and finally, someone to gather the brown bags after they have been won. Please call me if you can help or see me Tuesday night. We don't have as much as we did last year so please bring all things (quilty or not) that are taking up space in your house.....someone would love to carry it home for the price of $1! REMEMBER TO BRING NAME LABELS~it sure is easier than writing your name 30 times. Happy Holidays everyone, see you Tuesday.

NEXT MONTH'S FEATURE:

The January Program presenter is Brenda Perry. Last year she showed us what a quiltaholic she is. And she started an Amazing Stripe Quilt craze, which is still going on in our area. Scrappy quilts have become her latest passion. At our January guild meeting, she is showing us her interpretations of "Waste Not Want Not", the results of using her scraps. She is self taught over the past 40 years creating more than 200 quilts. Brenda is very entertaining and has become a local favorite among the North Texas guilds and more.

Words from Our Guild President

Celebrate December!

We have come to that time each year when we have the changing of the guard; new officers, new ideas, new projects with the promise of another year of friendship, fellowship, inspiration and accomplishments.

I have mixed feeling with the conclusion of this guild year. I'm putting behind me the butterflies of getting up to the podium but now I'll have more time to work on my own quilt projects; however, the last two years have been meaningful, uplifting and rewarding.

One of the best things about serving as president was meeting quilters. You are all outstanding, talented, friendly and supportive. I want to thank all the great members who helped me by serving as officers and chairmen of the many committees. Thank you for your dedication in fulfilling your obligations and your strong commitment in serving QGOA. You made it so easy and enjoyable to serve as president because you did such a great job. Thank you for attending board meetings and giving me your encouragement!

I am now looking forward to sitting back and enjoying the view from a different chair as Madame President, Barb Cain, and her 2015 Board continue moving this wonderful guild into the future.

In Fondest Friendship,
Susan FitzGerald

Happy
Holidays!

2014 Donation Quilt Celestial Beauty

Dear Ones,

Thanks so much for all you have done this year to raise funds for your QGOA and SafeHaven. Your participation has been a success. We have only two more organized opportunities to sell or purchase a winning chance to receive this phenomenal quilt.

Sincere thanks to all of the quilters from Sew and Sews that assisted Annis Clapp in assembling the quilt, and Annis in particular for heading the project and quilting the "Best of Show" quilt that Some lucky person will take home to admire forever.

I want to thank Randa Dillon, Carolyn Bowden, Barb Cain, Janice and David Mowery who sat with the quilt Saturday and Sunday afternoon at Keller high school for the Indianettes craft show December 5 & 6 from 9-5.

Tickets are due back at the December meeting where the quilt will have its final attendance. Remember to turn yours in before the drawing.

If you need tickets to sell or up your chances to take "Celestial Beauty" home with you, please see me or email or call 817-429-8126 or liz.cooper@tx.rr.com .

If you need a specific number of books, let me know, so that there will be enough for your stocking stuffer needs.

The cookbooks are $20 each (cash or check).

Project ♥ Linus

It is the end of another wonderful year of making quilts and blankets for children in need of comfort. I will have a total at the end of the year with numbers to indicate the generosity of the guild. Special thanks for contributions from Darnell Dark, Nancy Spell, Jolene Mershon, Judy Liston, Janice Farris, Carolyn Chandler, Janice Mowery, David Mowery, Ouida Bost, Robbie Colley, Randa Dillon, Kay Dietrich, Linda Dickson, and to anyone that gave me a contribution that I have missed. Please help me by pinning your name to your work. Even though the children that receive these gifts do not get to thank you personally, Linus can offer thanks in this newsletter.

The Snowball Express is coming very soon to DFW. There are 1600 blankets + plus our contribution to this organization. Snowball Express gave away 1200 last year. So every blanket is appreciated. These kids have paid a very heavy price to belong to Snowball. Each has lost a parent in the armed forces. Thanks for giving to them.

Whether it is the hospital or abused children or Snowball Express please know that your efforts brighten a child's world. Thanks is so small, but it is from their hearts.

The work we do for the guild and our community enriches us and the generations to come.

Most Sincerely, Elizabeth Cooper
